FEB. 6: PROGRAM ON CORPORATE DRUG TESTING SLATED AT UD

In recognition of National Collegiate Drug Awareness Week (Feb. 6-12), an informational program titled "Corporate Drug Testing" will be presented by Sandra Wallace of Mead Corporation on Monday, Feb. 6 at the University of Dayton. In training sessions at Mead, Wallace instructs employees about the company's substance abuse policy and how to implement it.

The presentation will be held at 7:30 p.m. in O'Leary Auditorium in Miriam Hall on campus. Admission is free and open to the public.

"Drug testing is going on and our students, as they enter the working world, will probably have to take a drug test," said Margaret O'Brien Brown, chairperson of the Residence Life Alcohol Education Committee at UD. "If they are taking a drug, they need to stop because it will show up in a drug test and it will affect whether or not they are hired."

"The question is not whether the companies should test for drugs, because they do," said Brown. "It's a way of life in business."

The program is sponsored by the Campus Alcohol Awareness Committee, Delta Sigma Pi and the Residence Life Alcohol Awareness Committee. For more information, contact Margaret O'Brien Brown at 229-4563.

FEB. 7: UD RECEPTION PLANNED FOR WINNERS OF MARTIN LUTHER KING ART CONTEST

The winners of a Dayton Public School art contest in honor of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. will be honored at a reception at the University of Dayton on Tuesday, Feb. 7 at 4 p.m. in the Kennedy Union Art Gallery.

An exhibit of the art, prose and poetry entries will begin Sunday, Feb. 5 at the gallery in conjunction with UD's celebration of Black History Month. Winning pieces in each category were selected in the four age groups of kindergarten through third grade, fourth through sixth grade, seventh through ninth grade and tenth through twelfth grade. The students, their parents, teachers and principals have been invited to the reception, which is also open to the public.

The Dayton Public Schools' exhibit will continue through February 18. Gallery hours are 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Thursday, 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. Friday and noon to 4 p.m. Saturday and Sunday. For more information, contact Margaret Peters at 276-2107.
